Excerpt: . . . 11 The 2011 Budget sustains DODs basic research ( 6.1 ) with a record commitment of 2.0 billion, and provides increases for research in high priority areas such as night vision, cybersecurity, enhanced GPS, deployable force protection, nano-manufacturing, and advanced distributed learning. And the 2011 Budget provides 32.1 billion for NIH, an increase of 1.0 billion, or 3.2 percent above the 2010 enacted level, to support the discovery of knowledge and therapies that will lead to better health outcomes for all Americans through a robust program of intramural and extramural research, education, and training. The Administration would encourage the Congress to provide the requested growth for these programs. Let me offer here a few thoughts on how Congress might strengthen the parts of the COMPETES Act that have the most capacity to leverage the American economy and secure Americas future. A major strength of the original COMPETES Act was its authorizations...
