Excerpt: . he hath triumphed gloriously, etc.; now in the temple service when they lifted up their voice with the trumpets and cymbals and instruments of music, and praised the Lord, saying: For He is good, for His mercy endureth forever, then the glory of the Lord had filled the house of God. Now, the Psalmist in the lowliness of his humility sings, Have mercy upon me, Oh, God! according to thy loving kindness, and according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out all my transgressions. The advent oi our Savior was heralded by a song, the voices of the angelic choir singing, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth, peace, good will toward men, startling the shepherds on the Judean hills, whose ears had never been attuned to such lofty strains. And yet, again in that upper room at the...
